17 August 2022

CSL Limited (ASX:CSL; USOTC:CSLLY) today announces a reported net profit after tax of $2.255 billion for the 12 months ended 30 June 2022, down 6% on a constant currency basis.

Mr Paul Perreault, CSL's Chief Executive Officer and Managing Director said, "CSL has delivered a good result at the top end of our guidance, demonstrating our resilient performance against the ongoing challenges presented by the global COVID pandemic."

"Despite the uncertain environment, we have carefully managed our costs and significantly boosted our investment in Research and Development, supporting our commitment to providing innovative medicine to patients."

"In FY21, our plasma collections were impacted by the pandemic, constraining subsequent sales of core plasma therapies in FY22, given the long-term nature of our manufacturing cycle."

"As the year progressed, we grew plasma collections significantly, albeit at a higher cost. Collections were up 24%, which we expect will underpin strong sales growth in our core plasma products, Ig and albumin, going forward. Having said that, the pandemic has put us two years behind projected growth in plasma collections – which is suboptimal for patient care," Mr Perreault said.

"Two of our key products, not limited by plasma collections, have continued their strong performance. Our leading recombinant haemophilia B product, IDELVION[®], increased sales by 20%² with its compelling clinical profile driving patient demand and market share. KCENTRA[®], our peri-operative bleeding product, grew 18%² as hospital demand returned to pre-pandemic levels."

"HPV royalties were up 55%² rebounding strongly to now exceed pre-COVID levels following strong demand and increased supply."

"Our influenza vaccines business, CSL Seqirus, delivered an exceptional performance with revenue up 13%², achieved by growth in seasonal influenza vaccines driven by their differentiated and high value product portfolio."

“Today I am pleased to announce CSL’s new carbon emissions reduction targets under our sustainability strategy which demonstrates our commitment to foster a more sustainable future for our people and planet.”

“During FY22, we announced the agreement to acquire Vifor Pharma and we are excited that this acquisition recently closed on 9 August 2022. CSL Vifor adds a high-value and complementary portfolio of products and market leading positions in renal disease and diseases of iron deficiency to CSL.”

“I remain confident in the value CSL Vifor will bring to CSL shareholders, adding to the sustainability of CSL’s growth”, Mr Perreault concluded.

OUTLOOK (at FY22 exchange rates)

Commenting on CSL's outlook, Mr. Perreault said, "Despite the challenges we have faced over the course of the pandemic, I'm very proud of the way the Company has continued to execute on our growth strategy and deliver on our promise to our patients."

"We have continued to invest in all facets of our business and I am very encouraged by the improved momentum we are seeing in our core Ig franchise."

"The strong growth we have seen in plasma collections is anticipated to continue as COVID recedes and underpin strong future sales growth in our core plasma therapies. The current higher cost of plasma is also expected to prevail into FY23."

"We anticipate our influenza business, CSL Seqirus, to deliver another strong year driven by demand for its differentiated products."

"CSL's net profit after tax for FY23 is anticipated to be approximately $2.4 billion to $2.5 billion at constant currency, returning to strong sustainable growth⁴. This excludes CSL Vifor earnings and costs associated with the acquisition.”

“Guidance for CSL Group will be updated to include CSL Vifor at the first practicable opportunity,” Mr Perreault concluded.

In compiling the company’s financial forecasts for FY23, a number of key variables that may have a significant impact on guidance have been identified and these have been included in the footnote⁵ below.
